Conscious Capital Foundation and Independence Gardens Unite to Empower the Next Generation of Female Leaders Through Girls Save The World™

A new partnership brings conscious leadership and sustainability together to inspire young changemakers to innovate for humanity.

Dallas-Fort Worth, TX – October 15, 2025

Independence Gardens and Conscious Capital Foundation (CCF) today announced the launch of Girls Save The World™ powered by Conscious Capital Foundation — the first major activation under their newly formed global partnership to cultivate purpose-driven youth leadership.

This groundbreaking collaboration merges CCF's Conscious Leadership and Live Whole™ frameworks with Independence Gardens' experiential learning model to empower young women to lead with awareness, compassion, and innovation.

Through immersive Leadership Labs, real-world Food Systems Challenges, and Storytelling Platforms that celebrate purpose in action, Girls Save The World™ will equip participants to design and activate solutions for healthier communities and a more sustainable planet.

“This partnership brings together two organizations deeply aligned in purpose,” said Josh Sens, Co-Founder of Conscious Capital Foundation & CEO of Scious Services. “Through Girls Save The World, we’re creating a space where young women learn not only how to lead — but why their leadership matters.”

“Independence Gardens has always believed that growing food grows leaders,” said Chonnie Richey, Founder and CEO of Independence Gardens. “Now, with Conscious Capital Foundation, we’re expanding that mission globally — growing a generation of girls who will save the world through conscious action.”

The Girls Save The World™ rollout represents the first phase of a multi-year collaboration between the organizations, which includes the Global Leadership Youth Summit and activations in Dallas, Texas scheduled for Earth Week 2026.
